Does Dominica generate solar power?

Dominica has a high solar potential with a solar resource of 5.6 kWh per square meter per day. The government has installed LED streetlights (in 2013 and 2014). Dominica also has approximately 30 MW of wind power potential, some of which is under development.

How much wind power is available in Dominica?

Dominica has a wind power potential of 10 MW at Crompton Point in Saint Andrew and an additional 20 MW elsewhere in the country. After reviewing nine wind studies, DOMLEC came to this conclusion.

What is the cost of electricity in Dominica?

The electricity rates in Dominica, as of 2015, were $0.39 per kilowatt-hour (kWh). This is higher than the Caribbean regional average of $0.33/kWh.

What are the challenges faced by wind and solar projects in Dominica?

There are challenges related to acquiring adequate land for wind and solar projects in Dominica and issues related to the country's geography, topography, and transportation that create obstacles.

Does Dominica heavily rely on fossil fuels?

Despite having three hydroelectric plants on the Roseau River that produce 27.4% of Dominica's electricity supply in the present day, Dominica is not heavily reliant on imported fossil fuels as other islands in the region. In the 1960s, hydropower supplied 90% of Dominica's electricity.

This document presents Dominica's Energy Report Card (ERC) for 2017, which was prepared using data and information submitted by the Member State as well as supplemental data extracted from online resources (see list of References).

Solar PV: Solar resource potential has been divided into seven classes, each representing a range of annual PV output per unit of capacity (kWh/kWp/yr). The bar chart shows the proportion of a country's land area in each of these classes and the global distribution of land area across the classes (for comparison).

Solar energy is another area of focus for Dominica, with several small-scale solar projects already in operation. In 2019, the government launched the Solar Street Lighting Project, which aims to replace traditional streetlights with energy ...
