Get ready for your chats to get a whole lot more explosive. WeChat's new version 8.0 comes with a long-awaited update to the app's signature emojis. Now when you send someone an emoji (from the built-in selection that comes with WeChat), it animates when sending, so that [Puke]emoji actually pukes when it pops up in the chat.

Don't forget, you will have to play around with them keeping in mind WeChat's 1Mbp sticker limit. Measured in Frames per Second (FPS), the frame rate is the frequency at which frames are displayed. This is definitely something to keep in mind while making WeChat stickers. FYI the standard FPS setting used while creating GIFs is 15 FPS.

Prepare your favorite emo song lyrics,because now WeChat lets you set a personal status on your profile page. After you receive the app update,go to "Me" in the bottom and you'll see a box marked "Status" beneath your name and profile picture.

All you need is a phone that doesn't have a potato for a camera, access to an app store loaded with GIF converter options, and of course, a WeChat account. Tip: You can cut the length of the video on your default editor itself instead of on the video-to-gif tool, since most aren't that great at trimming videos.
