There are some instances where solar panels might need cleaning, but most of the evidence says solar panels are self-sufficient and low-maintenance. We'll get to the best way to clean your solar panels in a minute.

How to clean solar panels?

Step 2: Choose the best approach: If your solar panels are on the roof, consider using a telescopic window cleaning pole to clean them from the ground instead of using a ladder. Step 3: Mix your cleaning solution: In a bucket of warm water, mix a small amount of mild detergent or use a specialised pre-mixed solution.

Can you climb on a roof to clean solar panels?

We wouldn't recommend climbing on a roof yourself to clean solar panels, since it's far too dangerous. To do it, you need to have been trained to work on a sloped surface, several metres up in the air, next to expensive, breakable solar panels. If you accidentally fall on them, you'll both suffer - and you could also fall off the roof.

Is it safe to clean solar panels from the ground?

Yes, and it's much safer than attempting to climb a ladder. Here's a step-by-step guide to cleaning your solar panels from the ground: 1. Switch off the entire solar PV system. Your solar PV system manual will tell you how to do this. 2.
