

Wind turbine blade patent

As such, in the field of wind energy, the patent classification system allows us to look at patents that relate to blades or rotors; components or gearboxes; control of the turbines; generators; ...

Systems, methods, and kits for reducing structural vibrations on wind turbine blades are provided. The actual dynamic structural conditions of a wind turbine blade can be used as a feedback ...

The patent refers to an infrared thermal image detection method for detecting micro-defects in the blades of large wind turbines, and the Shenyang University of Technology ...

Web: <https://ecomax.info.pl>

